VOLUME CIX.--NO. 36. ALEXANDRIA, VA., TUESDAY EVENING, FEBRUARY 11, 1908. PRICE 2 CENTS

What Ails You?

Do you feel weak, tired, despondent, have frequent headaches, coated tongue, bitter or bad taste in morning, "heart-burn," belching of gas, acid risings in throat after eating, stomach gnaw or burn, foul breath, dizzy spells, poor or variable appetite, nausea at times and kindred symptoms?

If you have any considerable number of the above symptoms you are suffering from biliousness, torpid liver with indigestion, or dyspepsia. Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery is made up of the most valuable medicinal principles known to medical science for the permanent cure of such abnormal conditions. It is a most efficient liver invigorator, stomach tonic, bowel regulator and nerve strengthener.

The "Golden Medical Discovery" is not a patent medicine or secret nostrum, a full list of its ingredients being printed on its bottle-wrapper and attested under oath. A glance at its formula will show that it contains no alcohol, or harmful habit-forming drugs. It is a fluid extract made with pure, triple-refined glycerine, of proper strength, from the roots of the following native American forest plants, viz., Golden Seal root, Stone root, Black Cherrybark, Queen's root, Bloodroot, and Mandrake root.

The following leading medical authorities, among a host of others, extol the foregoing roots for the cure of just such ailments as the above symptoms indicate: Prof. R. Bartholow, M. D., of Jefferson Med. College, Phila.; Prof. H. C. Wood, M. D., of Univ. of Pa.; Prof. Edwin M. Hale, M. D., of Hahnemann Med. College, Chicago; Prof. John King, M. D., Author of American Dispensatory; Prof. Jno. M. Scudder, M. D., Author of Specific Medicines; Prof. Laurence Johnson, M. D., Med. Dept. Univ. of N. Y.; Prof. Finley Ellingwood, M. D., Author of Materia Medica and Prof. in Bennett Medical College, Chicago. Send name and address on Postal Card to Dr. R. V. Pierce, Buffalo, N. Y., and receive free booklet giving extracts from writings of all the above medical authors and many others endorsing, in the strongest possible terms, each and every ingredient of which "Golden Medical Discovery" is composed.

Dr. Pierce's Pleasant Pellets regulate and invigorate stomach, liver and bowels. They may be used in conjunction with "Golden Medical Discovery" if bowels are much constipated. They're tiny and sugar-coated.

WASHINGTON CELEBRATES HIS BIRTHDAY.

[The Columbian Mirror and Alexandria Gazette.]

Monday, February 11, 1799.

Four Dollars per Ann. Vol VI. No 911.

[Published every Tuesday, Thursday and Saturday, by Henry Gird, Junior.]

A copy of the above named paper in the possession of Mr. S. F. Field, Alexandria, is valuable chiefly in that it contains an account of the celebration of Washington's Birthday, Washington himself being present on this occasion and reviewing the troops. This was the last of his birthdays which Washington celebrated, he dying in December 1799.

According to the old style Washington's birthday fell on February 11.

The following is the account of the celebration:

ALEXANDRIA, FEBRUARY 13.

It was the intention of the Editor to have published the Mirror on Monday morning, in order to gain time to evince his attachment and respect to General Washington. In this, however, he was disappointed by an accident which happened to his press, and which could not speedily be adjusted. He trusts that his patrons will accept of this apology for its consequent delay. They must be assured of its truth when they observe that the first page has Monday's date at the head.

WASHINGTON'S BIRTHDAY.

This day, so justly dear to all true Americans, was celebrated in this town in a style heretofore unprecedented. The Editor regrets that he does not possess talents to describe the proceedings in the manner which they deserve. The public will, however, pass by any defects in style, and do him the justice to believe that did he possess the chaste language of Addison, combined with the creative imagination of a Shakespeare, he would feel himself honored and happy in using them on this occasion.

Aurora rose with more than common splendour, as if wishing to assist in the tribute of respect paid to our hoary chief. She was ushered in by a discharge from the Alexandria Artillery, and a federal salute from the armed schooner Neptune, under the command of Capt. Abel Willis. About 10 o'clock the following corps met in the court house square, under the respected commanders whose names are attached to them: George Deneale, esq., being the officer of the day, and Mr. John Winterbury, adjutant.

Alexandria Artillery, Capt. W. Harper; First Company of Militia, Ensign, Robert Stewart; Second Company of Militia, Capt. Charles Turner; Third Company of Militia, Capt. J. Muncaster; Fourth Company of Militia, Capt. Thos. Rogerson; Silver Greys, Lieut. P. Marsteller; Alexandria Blues, Lieut. G. Chapin; Riflemen, Capt. Alex. Smith.

After going through the manual exercise, &c., at 11 o'clock the line was formed on Fairfax street, where they were joined by the following troops of horses who had escorted the general into town.

Alexandria Dragoons, Capt. R. Young; Fairfax Dragoons, Capt. John Simpson; Volunteer Dragoons, Capt. John Fitzgerald.

Shortly after the general came into town, he passed the line in review, accompanied by several gentlemen. Agreeable to arrangements previously made, three companies of infantry were embarked on board the Neptune, the Trial, and Mercury, in order to act as an invading enemy. The remaining troops marched to the Mall, when the riflemen and a detachment of artillery were dispatched to protect the fort, and act against the foe. When the Neptune came abreast of the fort, she received three rounds, which she returned, silenced the guns, and puffed up the river in order to effect a landing—the riflemen in the meantime running along shore, endeavoring to pick the men off the shrouds, and the artillery keeping up a fire at her. When she came opposite to Keith's wharf, the troops were landed on it, the Neptune covering the debarkation, where they were opposed by those on shore, and were eventually obliged to take to their boats. A landing was afterward's effected on Ramsay's wharf, and the supposed enemy marched up King street, on which street, at the intersection of Fairfax street, they were again opposed; and a heavy and continuous street-firing kept up; until by an excellent manœuver of the horse, who came upon their rear, they were obliged to surrender.

The editor does not conceive it necessary for him to praise the performances of the day. It is quite sufficient to say that they met the entire approbation of the man whom they were intended to honor, and who attended closely to every evolution, and when they were closed, presented his highest respects to all the parties engaged in them, and said that they had far surpassed his expectations.

The companies then adjourned to dinner. The marine officers and several respectable citizens at Mr. Hilton's; the artillery company at Mr. Macleod's; Capt. Deneal's, Capt. Turner's and Capt. Muncaster's companies at Mr. McKnight's; Capt. Young's troop of horse and Capt. Rogerson's company of infantry at Mr. Renor's, and the Silver Greys at Mr. Geo. Rutter's. The dinners and wines were such as did honor to the preparers, and were perfectly satisfactory to the guests. The toasts which follow are evincive of the spirit of the day; and from a criterion whereby the northern States may judge of the federalism of the town of Alexandria.

LISTS OF TOASTS.

Toasts drank at Mr. Hilton's: Capt. Willis, president; Dennis Ramsay, esq., vice president.

Lieutenant General George Washington, the hero whose birth we celebrate. May the grim tyrant never part his cable until he has chastised our foreign enemies—9 cheers.

The President of the United States. The political sheet anchor of all true Americans.—6 cheers.

The Vice President of the United States—the correspondent of Mazzei. May he abjure his present political creed, or expatriate himself to that country best adapted to it.

The Congress of the United States—may that part who voted the appropriations to protect our commerce, meet with the gratitude of an independent people, and those who voted in the opposition, experience the just execrations of their fellow citizens, whose dearest rights and property they would sacrifice at the footstool of the French despots—3 cheers.

General Pinckney, General Marshall and Mr. Gerry. May all our future Envoys possess their firmness and ability—8 cheers.

All traitorous Envoys—May they meet a just reward—A halter!!!

(In all, 16 toasts.)

Toasts drank at Mr. McKnight's, 16; toasts drank at Mr. Renoe's, toasts by Capt. Rogerson's Co., 16; toasts drank by Capt. Young's Co., 16; toasts drank at Mr. Rutter's, 16. All similar to those given above.

The evening was concluded by a ball and supper given at Mr. Gadsby's, which was much superior to anything of the kind ever known here. The company was numerous and brilliant, and beauty of person and excellence of taste, in the ladies, seemed to vie for a preference. The house was elegantly illuminated, and the ball room was adorned with a transparent likeness of Gen. Washington, executed in a masterly style.

Thus have the citizens of Alexandria in doing honor to their illustrious neighbor, done the highest honor to themselves, and proved to the Union that their federalism and gratitude keep pace with each other.

Alexandria Gazette
SIC SEMPER TYRANNIS
AND VIRGINIA ADVERTISER

TUESDAY EVENING, FEB. 11, 1908.

WHEN Mr. Lewis H. Machen was in the State Senate two years ago, he succeeded in having a measure passed submitting to the people a proposition to amend the constitution so as to have longer sessions of the legislature, but through some technicality, the question never reached a vote by the people. Now Mr. Machen is writing the proceedings of the legislature for the Richmond Times Dispatch, and in his articles is still urging longer sessions. In Sunday's issue of that paper he says:

Every time the legislature meets and tries to conclude its work in sixty days, it becomes more and more apparent that the thing is impossible. Nobody could come to Richmond and witness the frantic and fruitless struggles of the members to transact their business in the limited time, with anything approaching completeness, without saying that the time should be extended, unless, indeed, he were blinded by prejudice. A few people who know nothing of the character and amount of the work the legislature is called upon to do set up their opinion against that of a hundred wiser people, who know a thousand times as much about the subject. There are a good many common scolds in the State who abuse the legislature indiscriminately for everything it does, for not doing enough and for doing too much. The crackling of thorns under a pot is music to the braying of this class.

Mr. Machen unquestionably believes he knows a thousand times as much about the subject as those, who he says, know nothing of the character of the work the legislature is called upon to do; but as a matter of fact he does not. It will be remembered that last year when he was a candidate for re-election to the State Senate he made longer sessions of the legislature the chief plank in his platform, and on that he was defeated by a gentleman who was but little known in the district and who had scarcely a speaking acquaintance with a dozen voters in this city. This shows clearly that the people are opposed to long sessions of the legislature. The people have learned that the longer the legislature is in session the more harm it is likely to do.

IN ORDER to secure complete control of the moving picture business of this country, representing an investment of $50,000,000, eight of the leading American and French manufacturers have formed an $8,000,000 combination, which on Saturday last dictated its terms to 100 rental agents and 4,200 playhouses and 5-cent amusement places throughout the country. The rules adopted by the combined manufacturers will be strictly enforced, and it is frankly announced that these who do not live up to their terms will be forced out of business. The manufacturers protest that they have not formed a trust, and that the rules which they have adopted are solely for the protection of the public. Why, certainly!

THE first indictment ever brought in Fayette county, Kentucky against a so-called trust was returned by the Fayette county grand jury yesterday when the jury handed in a "true bill" to the Court, indicting the American Tobacco Company on a charge of conspiracy to reduce the price of raw tobacco. This indictment is the direct result of Circuit Judge Parker's order to the grand jury to investigate the tobacco situation in that region in order to ascertain whether the charges made by members of the Society of Equity were true.

FISH wardens along the Allegheny river in Pennsylvania and its large tributaries are compelled to sit up nights to catch the fishermen who are trying to spear the fish through holes in the ice. Did anyone ever hear of a Virginia officer being so vigilant?

From Washington.

[Correspondence of the Alexandria Gazette.]

Washington, D. C., February 11.

So far as they are able to choose, the democrats will make the middle and the northwest states the storm center of their campaign. That was the decision of the party, as represented by the congressional campaign committee, when Representative James T. Loyd, of Shelbyville, Mo., was selected last night as chairman. Even when Representative Bowers, of Mississippi, and Representative Flood, of Virginia, contenders for the honor, threw their strength to Representative Ryan, of Buffalo, N. Y., the northern man fell far short of the goal, receiving only 15 votes to 28 for the Missourian. This was notwithstanding the prediction made by Ryan's friends, that democracy would gain six Congressmen in New York State, if he were chosen. John Sharp Williams, the minority leader, went into the meeting on proxy, to plead for Ryan, but without avail.

Senator Forsker's open defiance of the administration in the Senate, in which he met the denial of President Roosevelt that the administration was engaged in coercion in connection with the Taft candidacy, by citing the case of Editor Bryson, of Athens, as one of hundreds of similar cases, is believed to be the key note for a general attack upon the administration by a number of Senators. It has at least revived a recent movement to press the adoption of a Senate resolution of inquiry into the method of federal appointments within the last year. Senator Stone prepared such a resolution, it is now learned, but before introducing it, submitted the document to a number of anti-administration republicans. They counselled delay, so the friends of Mr. Stone explain, on the ground that the President had in preparation his defense of such charges. Now that the President's defense has been so aggressively challenged by Senator Foraker, who has many friends in the Senate, who are willing to aid him in his political fight for existence in Ohio, and for the further reason that other Senators believe they have been dealt with unfairly by the President, those who have been following the sensational controversy, look for further senatorial outbursts. Several senatorial heavy weights have been tempted to take issue with the President on the question but feared their defense of what they consider to be their "constitutional rights," might be misconstrued into political antagonism of the administration. They have in mind now following the Foraker plan which dealt lightly with the President but provided a vitriolic bath for those who represent the administration.

The Government's investigation into the so-called paper trust is being pushed. A preliminary report has already been made to the attorney general and it is understood several lines of inquiry are being pursued that it is expected will lead to some definite results shortly. The government is confronted with the fact that no such records are available as in the former inquiry into the paper trust and the other alleged combinations against which suit has been brought.

The government is preparing to begin the taking of testimony in the dissolution suit against the powder "trust." The examiner appointed by the court, W. G. Mahaffey, of Delaware, is ready for the hearings. It is understood that they will first open at Wilmington, and that special assistant J. H. Graves, of the Department of Justice, will be in charge of the government's case. He is now engaged in the Standard oil hearing at Albany.

Sixtieth Congress.

Washington, Feb. 11.

SENATE.

The Senate today passed a bill providing for the participation by the United States in Tokyo international exposition, in Japan in 1912.

Upon an appeal by Senator Gallinger, the Senate this afternoon agreed to consider the ship subsidy bill Monday.

The Senate passed a bill today granting Oregon land to be used for a fish cultural station.

The Senate today passed a bill extended the bounty-land laws to the officers and enlisted men of the Florida Seminole Indian war.

HOUSE.

Mr. Sulzer offered a bill making Lincoln's birthday a national holiday.

"Lincoln was the greatest American ever produced by our country, and his birthday should be a great holiday from one end of the land to the other," declared Mr. Sulzer. Tomorrow, Lincoln's birthday, when the House meets, he will seek a suspension of the rules, and urge the passage of his measure.

The House adopted the Foss resolution calling upon the Secretary of the Navy for a report on the reduction of the laboring forces in the several navy yards.

Another Enoch Arden Case.

Meadville, Pa., Feb. 11—Seven years after he had mysteriously disappeared from his home near here, during which he had accumulated a half million dollars, George Graham returned today to find his wife married to G. W. Kough.

Several weeks ago the couple learned that Graham was still alive and upon legal advice were married a second time yesterday. Upon his return Graham at once went to his old home expecting to find his wife awaiting him.

He was greeted by strange faces who told him that his wife had married Kough nearly seven years ago. Graham located his former wife and husband on a prosperous farm near here and when he made himself known Mrs. Kough fainted.

When she revived the woman threw her arms around Kough's neck and shrieked, "Oh, I can't leave you. I love you best of all." After offering to divide his fortune with the couple Graham said he proposed to go back west as he did not care to mar his former wife's happiness.

Trouble in the Coal Trust.

Philadelphia, Feb. 11.—Trouble is rumored among the interests included in the hitherto supposedly "air tight," anthracite coal trust. The report is that certain of the corporations, bound by the alleged trust agreement, have been caught on shady prices, that there is a possibility of a disruption of the combine and that consumers are about to profit by the producers' disagreements. The reported price cutting is attributed to the falling off of business in coal carrying railroads, to the consequent desire on the management's part to stimulate business and to the piling up of anthracite subject to heavy demurrage charges at various distributing points. In the event of a dissolution of the combine, which may be considered reasonably certain if any of the companies can be positive shown to have violated their agreements, cuts and counter-cuts will naturally result with corresponding and immediate advantage to the public.

Cabinet Crisis Averted.

London, Feb. 11.—England has just missed a cabinet crisis and may still shortly see the resignation of the Bannerman ministry as a result of the pending parliamentary struggle over the country's increasing naval expenditures.

Though begun by the anti-imperialists the opposition to the governments policy has had the support of so large a proportion of the liberal members of Parliament that the two parties may fairly be considered allies, so far as the question of naval appropriations are concerned.

The danger though averted for the time, is momentarily liable to recur, many economists being constantly aligning themselves with the anti-imperialists from fear that England, already overtaxed, will be plunged into a financial panic by the addition of still greater burdens.

Miss Maud Ashford, whose engagement to the venerable Senator Henry Gassaway Davis was recently announced, emphatically denies rumors that the engagement had been broken.

News of the Day.

All previous records for receipts of hogs in Chicago were broken yesterday.

The West Virginia Senate yesterday overwhelmingly rejected the resolution giving women the right to vote in West Virginia.

The trial of Raymond Hitchcock, the actor, who is under indictment charged with felonious assault on young girls, was today postponed in New York until February 24.

Jack "Twin" Sullivan is matched to fight Jimmy Flynn a ten-round go at Los Angeles tonight. Big gloves will be used and no decision given, according to the new ordinances.

James T. Lloyd, of Missouri, was elected chairman of the democratic congressional campaign committee last night. Hon. H. D. Flood, of Virginia, retired from the contest.

Panic attended a fire in the Longworth building on Fourth street Cincinnati, O., this afternoon. A millinery concern employing many young girls occupies the building. One girl was overcome. It is feared that the entire building will be destroyed.

Twelve men were injured in a race riot between 200 men who were waiting to reply for work today at the offices of B. F. Goodyear Rubber Company in Akron, Ohio. Stones, clubs and fists were used. Police dispersed the crowd, arrested two men.

Lieutenant-General Chaffee, retired, will become the main factor in the building of the $23,000,000 acqueduct which is to bring the Owens river into Los Angeles, Cal. Gen. Chaffee has accepted an appointment on the board of public and will be made chief of that body.

The announcement has been made in Philadelphia that Mrs. Anna M. Weightman Walker has decided to share her fortune of $60,000,000, on the eve of her marriage to Frederic Courtland Penfield, with the relatives who unsuccessfully fought for it two years ago in that city.

The joint congressional postal commission recommends that the postmaster general be chargeable only with the determination of questions of policy, and that the actual direction of the business of the entire service be committed to a director of posts and assistants appointed for long terms.

Every seat in the Columbia Theatre in Washington was sold for the lecture on "Castles in the Air," which Senator Taylor delivered yesterday afternoon for the benefit of the movement to erect a monument to the Confederate dead who sleep in the National Cemetery at Arlington. The lecture was most interesting and amusing and was heartily enjoyed by the large audience.

When Charles W. Morse, the eliminated banker, returns to this country on the steamer Etruria, on which he is now returning, having been called back from Europe, he will have to face at least two indictments for grand larceny. The indictments were filed yesterday by the special January grand jury which has been investigating banking cases. The federal grand jury is still looking into Morse's banking methods. The indictments against Morse are based on his stock dealing with ex-Justice Morgan J. O'Brien.

BODIES PLACED IN SEPULCHRES.

The bodies of King Carlos and Crown Prince Luiz Philippe were yesterday laid beside those of their royal ancestors in the sacred sepulchres of the Pantheon at Lisbon.

The official closing of one of the most tragical incidents in Portuguese history was attended by a scene which almost developed into a disaster. A great crowd running into the thousands struggled outside the Cathedral of San Vincente, seeking to enter and view the bodies before the doors were finally closed. Brushing back the police and the guard of Royal Archers, they poured into the church, sweeping everything before them. A panic was threatened and the cavalry was called out to disperse the pushing thousands. Women and children were caught in the crush and many of them were crushed and trampled, but no fatalities have been reported.

When the doors were eventually closed to the public the ceremony of entombment was begun. All the ministers of State were present. The patriarch of Lisbon, wearing pontifical vestments and assisted by other high church officials, blessed the sacraments, the cathedral and palace choirs chanted "Libera Me," and, to the intoning of "De Profundis," the coffin of the Crown Prince was transported between double ranks of archers, preceded by a long procession, including mace-bearers, acolytes and grand dignitaries of the palace. In a similiar manner the body of the King was borne to the tomb.

After absolution and the chanting of the Benedictus, the Grand Chamberlain solemnly swore that the bodies were those of "our beloved lord and King, his most faithful Majesty Dom Carlos I, King of Portugal, and our Prince Dom Luiz Philippe, Duke of Braganza."

Official documents were drawn up and signed and the key of each coffin was given over to the Patriarch of Lisbon. When the coffins were placed in the tombs, the cortege separated and the Pantheon was closed.

BURNS WINS FIGHT.

The fight between Tommy Burns, the American, and Jack Palmer, the Englishman, for the heavy weight championship of the world, was pulled off last night in Wonderland, London, and was won easily by the American in four rounds. It was a ludicrous exhibition of Palmer's complete unfitness to meet Burns. The Englishman spent a large part of the time on his knees resting. The spectators hooted him and shouted, "Stand up and fight," but in vain. Palmer would not; and Burns laughed aloud during the rounds. Finally Palmer was counted out while he was on the floor.

A CLEANLY AGE.

Twentieth Century Ideas Incline Toward Sanitation and Preventives.

Nowadays scientists believe that in cleanness lies the secret of prevention of diseases.

To prevent a disease, remove the cause.

Just as unclean habits breed many diseases, so careless habits will breed dandruff. Improper use of another's brushes, combs, etc., will surely cause dandruff, and, in time, will just as surely cause baldness.

Its' microbic infection, nothing more nor less.

Newbro's Herpicide kills the dandruff germ, and causes hair to grow luxuriantly. Herpicide is absolutely free from grease or other injurious sustances.

Virginia News.

Dr. Daniel A. Langhorne died yesterday in Lynchburg aged eighty-three years.

Miss Sallie Elizabeth Glaize died Saturday night at her home in Winchester, of neuralgia of the heart.

Mrs. Elizabeth Skinker, wife of the late James Skinker, died yesterday at the home of her daughter, Mrs. Thomas Smith, in Warrenton, in her ninety-second year.

Grand Chancellor Dickinson, of the Grand Lodge, Knights of Pythias, of Virginia, has issued an order changing the meeting place of the Grand Lodge from Clifton Forge to Staunton. The meeting will be held the fourth Tuesday in May.

J. J. and J. W. Wood, of Page county, are engaged in getting out pulp wood. The wood is known by paper-making people as bass and linn, the former growing along the banks of the river, and the latter along the river cliffs. J. R. Huffman and A. J. Alger are also engaged in similar work. The wood brings from $5 to $6 per cord aboard cars.

An appeal of the Virginia State Corporation Commission from the decision of Judge Pritchard, enjoining the commission from enforcing a 2-cent passenger rate on railroads in that State, was docketed in the United States Supreme Court yesterday. The suit was instituted by various railroad companies of that State, on the ground that the rate was confiscatory, and Judge Pritchard granted their prayer for an injunction. There are six cases, and the record is a very voluminous one.

W. Biggs, formerly a collector for a New York weekly newspaper, and A. Robbins, of Maysville, Ky., were arrested at Riverton junction yesterday just as they were boarding a Norfolk and Western train for the north, and placed in jail at Woodstock on the charge of larceny. Biggs was formerly a collector in that section, but was discharged December last. He is charged with failing to turn over his lists and account for the collections which he has made since his discharge.

The Legislature.

SENATE.

The Senate yesterday agreed to the resolution which provides for an amendment to the constitution, directing the popular election of commissioners of the revenue in the cities and permitting them to succeed themselves.

Senator Parsons, one of the republican members of the Senate, will today offer a bill which will seek to amend the constitution by permitting the election of all judges of all the courts by the people.

HOUSE

Mr. Robert W. Withers presented a bill to authorize the Virginia commission to the Jamestown exposition to sell and convey certain property belonging to the State, to pay certain debts, to make certain investments and to pay any residue therefrom in the public treasury.

The House finance committee reported the bill to allow the negro reformatory to take one hundred and fifty instead of one hundred inmates. The compensation allowed for each inmate is the same allowed to jails. For some time the institution has been crowded, and many demands made the immediate passage of the bill a necessity.

Mr. H. Featherston's resolution which seeks to simplify the method of procedure in the conduct of business was passed. The resolution proposes a constitutional amendment, and provides only one reading and one recorded vote in connection with the passage of each bill.

Mr. Hunt presented a bill providing that in the trial of all criminal cases the closing argument for the Commonwealth shall alone be made by the legally constituted attorney for the Commonwealth. The bill is presented from the fact that assistants are often employed in such cases, and that frequently these assistants are allowed to close.

A number of bills were reported from various committees, read a first time and placed upon the calendar. Among these was one offered by Messrs. Bowman and Nolting, from the committee on roads and internal navigation, appropriating $250,000 annually for good roads. It was referred to the committee on finance.

Mr. Caton called up his resolution to change the Constitution with reference to damage to abutting property owners, and it was lost.

Mr. Caton, in House bill No. 84, amends section 84 of the revenue act in relation to reports of telegraph and telephone companies for the purpose of assessment. The bill provides for the making of such reports to the State Corporation Commission instead of to the Auditor of Public Accounts and the fine for failure to make reports is placed at a maximum of $2,500, which is the present maximum, but omits the minimum fine of $500, which the present law prescribes. Under the bill such fines may be as small as those for any misdemeanor.

TO MEET VIRGINIA LAWMAKERS.

The joint committee of the Maryland Senate and House named in accordance with a resolution introduced by Senator Linthicum to confer with a similar committee from the Virginia Legislature, with the view of securing concurrent oyster legislation in the Potomac river and other waters in which the two states are interested, met at Annapolis last night after the adjournment of the Legislature.

Senator Linthicum was chosen as chairman of the joint committee, and Mr. Dwight Burroughs was named as special messenger to go to Richmond for the purpose of conferring with the members of the Virginia committee in order to fix on a convenient date for the meeting.

The members of the committee include Senators Linthicum, Andrews, Brashears, Milbourne and Greenwell and Delegates Hayden, Benson, Quinn, Brady, Jones of Calvert and Karl of Alleghany.

Today's Telegraphic News.

Charges Against Judge Blackstone.

[Special Dispatch to the Alexandria Gazette.]

Richmond, Feb. 11.—The House today directed the committee for courts of justice to proceed with the investigation of Judge Blackstone. The feature of the matter today was the presentation of specific charges by citizens of the Eleventh circuit. These charges go into great detail and allege that Judge Blackstone on two occasions went to sleep on the bench while in an intoxicated condition; that he was a frequenter of negro houses of ill-fame; that on one occasion he directed the sheriff to bring certain papers to a negro woman's house that he might sign them.

Another Fight with Suffragettes.

London, Feb. 11.—A strong force of suffragettes stormed the House of Commons today, but was beaten back by the police after a series of fierce scuffles. Many arrests were made.

The women swooped on the house with the usual suddenness of their attacks, bent on forcing their way into the chamber and reiterating their many times voiced demand for the ballot. The police have had so much trouble with them of late, however, that they were prepared and barred the way when the first rush was made.

So energetic was the storming party in its attempts to beat down opposition that the police were compelled to use considerable force and a number of women were treated with decided roughness in the skirmish. The prisoners say they will, as usual, refuse to pay fines, preferring imprisonment to voluntary compliance with man-made laws.

Denials Not Convincing.

New York, Feb. 11.—Denials of the presistent report that Mrs. Cornelius Vanderbilt is to wed Count Alexander Hadik, of Hungary, are neither postive enough from persons considered close enough to the Vanderbilt family to prove very convincing to New York society. New Yorkers, who have traveled much abroad all know a good deal of Count Alexander's history, which has been marked by a long series of financial embarrassments, from which his family, one of the wealthiest and most influential in Hungary, has repeatedly exerted itself to the utmost to disentangle him. Seemingly authentic reports that Mrs. Vanderbilt is about to offer her $4,000,000 home at Fifth avenue and Fifty-seventh street for sale are considered significant. No members of the Vanderbilt family will discuss rumors of the alliance.

Japan Excited.

Tokio, Feb. 11.—Japan is much excited over a big batch of war stories in today's cables from the United States. Officialdom is much puzzled by the hostile tone of the dispatches, having assumed that the progress of negotiations between the two countries was giving entire satisfaction to Americans.

Messages from China are also taking on an increasingly ugly tone, influential statemen in the celestial empire being freely quoted to the effect that China will fight before permitting the Japanese annexation of Manchuria, which the Chinese evidently consider imminent. Former American Ambassador Aoki is still awaiting a summons before the Mikado to report on conditions at Washington, and is openly voicing his anger at the manner in which he is being ignored.

The Czarena's Condition.

Vienna, Feb. 11.—Although the St. Petersburg press is not permitted to publish the fact, it is positively known that the Czarena is suffering from hallucinations and that her physicans have warned her husband of the urgent neccessity for her removal from Russia. The patient still insists that she will not go without her husband, and the latter's ministers have reiterated their warning that his absence from the country will involve the gravest political dangers. His majesty is reported to be considering the dissolution of the Duma, though his ministers fear this will precipitate serious disturbances as a preliminary to a trip to the Riviera with his wife.

Body Found in a Well.

New York, Feb. 11.—Henry H. Barnard, the rich New York lumber man and former director of the Twelfth ward bank, found dead in a well on an abandoned farm near Dr. A. E. Sharp's Katonah, N. Y., sanitarium, where he had been for some time, proves to have been another victim of the strain of the recent financial crisis. Barnard was active in working out the plan by which the Twelfth ward bank was reopened, but the worry broke him down so seriously that he was sent to the sanitarium to recuperate. He left there early Saturday suppposedly to return to New York. Barnard was 62 years old. His funeral was held today.

Count Castellane Fined.

Paris, Feb. 11.—Count Boni de Castellane was fined one hundred francs today for his recent fight with the Prince De Sagan, his cousin. The prince's claim for one franc dameges was also allowed. Jean de Castellane, the count's brother, whom de Sagan accused of aiding in the assault on him, was acquitted. The Count de Castellane and his cousin, the Prince de Sagan, quarreled over the latter's attentions to the former's divorced wife, Mme. Anna Gould.

New York Stock Market.

New York, Feb. 11.—There was a good deal of irregularity to the market during the first hour. In ten minutes the rally that was in progress in the late trading yesterday was continued, some material gains being made in the leading issues. But the upward movement was checked by aggressive selling for some of the leading bear interests and for a time it looked as though the rally would never hold. Later in the hour some large buying orders appeared in the stocks that have been accepted as market leaders causing another upturn in the majority of the issues traded in, and as the hour ended many stocks showed net gains over yesterday's closing, ranging from fractions to over one point.

Skin Disease of Twenty Years' Standing Cured.

I want you to know how much Chamberlain's Salve has done for me. It has cured my face of a skin disease of almost twenty year's standing. I have been treated by several as smart physicians as we have in this country and they did me no good, but two boxes of this salve has cured me.—Mrs. Fannie Griffen, Troy, Ala. Chamberlain's Salve is for sale by. W. F. Creighton and Richard Gibson.

Uneasiness in Portugal.

London, Feb. 11.—Muttering is already beginning to be heard in Lisbon against the new Portugese government. The cabinet seems to feel that it has gone as far as it can safely go in its policy of conciliation, and the tightening of the governmental reign immediately threatens trouble.

The arrest is being discussed in the ministry of republican leaders who have been openly commending the assassination of King Carlos and Prince Luiz and even suggesting that more examples of the same kind may be needed. There is no doubt that there have been many seditious utterances which no other government in Europe would tolerate. That so early a resumption of political arrests is safe is questioned, however, by King Manuel's advisors. Yet it is not certain whether the consequences will not be equally grave should the agitators' boldness be ignored.

The republican press appears, too, to be fairly courting suppression with its outspoken assertions that, though some at least of the surviving regicides are known, no attempt will be made to punish them, and its demands for justice against the police who shot three of the murderers after they had slain King Carlos and his son in cold blood.

The populace is making nothing less than heroes of the dead regicides, fairly talking over one another with their subscriptions to their families and fighting for the privilege of adopting their children.

The bodies of the two regicides and of Costa, the bystander, killed by the police immediately following the assassination of King Carlos and Prince Luiz, were buried at 3 o'clock this morning. The authorities insisted that the funerals be held at night to lessen the danger of a popular demonstration. A squadron of cavalry and a strong detail of police escorted the cortege. There was no disturbance.

Distress in Chicago.

Chicago, Feb. 11.—Never in the history of Chicago relief and aid society has there such a demand for assistance as at the present, is the claim of Superintendent Kingsley, who is in charge of the distrubutions of the funds by the business men's committee, which has just raised between $25,000 and $30,000 for needy families. "Never in the history of the society have we had so many appeals based entirely on lack of employment," he continued. "Many of the applicants claim they are union mechanics. We have almost every trade in the city represented." It is estimated that 10,000 families will be in the list of dependents next month.

Decision Against Southern Pacific.

San Francisco, Feb. 11.—By a decision of the U. S. Court of Appeals the Southern Pacific Railroad loses its control of the California Development Company which owns the great irrigation system of the Imperial Valley. The stockholders of the Development Company will take charge and complete the development of the system. The Southern Pacific also loses $200,000, which was "loaned," to the company and used in repairing the Southern Pacific tracks at Salton Sea, which proved such a costly experiment of the Harriman line.

Removal Recommended.

Albany, N. Y. Feb. 11.—Gov. Hughes today sent a message to the Senate recommending that O to Kelsey be removed as State Superintendent of Insurance on grounds of inefficiency, based on the report made to the governor by Mathew Fleming, who investigated the department of insurance. The charges are much the same as those made last year when the Senate retained Kelsey over the Governor's recommendation of removal.

Car Plunges Down Bank.

Pittsburg, Feb. 11.—Seven people were injured, two probably fatally at West Homestead today when a car of the Pittsburg and Homestead Street Railway Company plunged over a fifty-foot embankment. The accident is attributed to slippery rails. When the car turned a curve it got beyond control of the motorman.

Deprived of His Seat.

Manila, Feb. 11.—Domins Dor Gomez, prominent as a labor and anti-American agitator, was deprived of his seat in the assembly today by a vote of 40 to 35. Realizing that defeat was inevitable, Gomez had himself introduced the resolution of expulsion.

Secretary Root and Ambassador Jusserand yesterday signed a treaty providing for the arbitration of any issue that may arise between France and the United States.

Perry M. Johnson, a prominent farmer near Warrenton, died yesterday.

Neglected Colds Threaten Life.

[From the Chicago Tribune.]

"Don't trifle with a cold,' is good advice for prudent men and women. It may be vital in the case of a child. Proper food, good ventilation, and dry warm clothing are the proper safeguards against colds. If they are maintained through the changeable weather of autumn, winter and spring, the chances of a surprise from ordinary colds will be slight. But the ordinary light cold will become severe if neglected, and a well-established ripe cold is the germs of diphtheria what honey is to the bee. The greatest menace to child life at this season of the year is the neglected cold." Whether it is a child or adult, the cold slight or severe, the very best treatment that can be adopted is to give Chamberlain's Cough Remedy. It is safe and sure. The great popularity and immense sale of this preparation has been attained by its remarkable cures of this ailment. A cold never results in pneumonia when it is given. For sale by W. F. Creighton and Richard Gibson.

STRAY BOY.

Eugene Williams, 11 years old, who claims to be the son of William Williams, chief of police at Phoebus, Va., was turned over to the police last night by Mr. C. W. Wattles, agent for the Norfolk and Washington Steamboat Company. The youngster had appealed to him for transportation to Norfolk. Young Williams said he arrived in Alexandria with his father last Friday morning, and that they proceeded to Manassas, where Chief Williams took charge of a prisoner. The lad became separated from his father and missed the train and remained at Manassas railway station without food until yesterday morning. He then walked five miles to Clifton, where he was taken aboard a freight train, which brought him to this city. The youth said his home was at 550 Twenty-ninth street, Newport News, and Chief Goods telegraphed to that address. Young Williams spent last night at the home of Chief Goods. The chief this morning received an answer to his dispatch from the mother of the boy. She requested him to hold her son until some member of the family came here.

MARSHALL HOUSE TRAGEDY.

There was a large gathering of Sons of Confederate Veterans and others at Confederate Veterans' Hall last night to listen to Mr. Joseph Padgett's version of the killing of Col. E. E. Ellworth and James W. Jackson early on the morning of May 24, 1861. Mr. Padgett was a witness of the dual tragedy and also a member of the coroner's jury which investigated the killing of Jackson. Mr. Padgett, in a clear and interesting manner, described the details in connection with the killing of Ellsworth by Jackson and the death of the latter at the hands of the infuriated Zouaves. Mr. Padgett's address was listened to with close attention by all present.

During the evening remarks were made by Messrs. W. H. May, E. Warfield, Dr. Gorman and others.

BANQUET TONIGHT.

All the preparations for the first annual banquet of the Alexandria Chamber of Commerce tonight have been perfected, and all who attend are assured an interesting and delightful evening. The banquetters will gather at the rooms of the Chamber of Commerce, on the southeast corner of King and Washington streets, at 8:15 o'clock, and fifteen minutes later will repair to McBurney's Hall, on the opposite corner, where the banquet will be held. The hall has been beautifully and artistically decorated by Mr. J. L. Loose, and Rammel Bros., who will be the caterers, will exercise their culinary skill. There will be about 125 covers. Messrs. W. W. Finley, president of the Southern Railway Company; Hon. John Sharp Williams and others will speak on the occasion.

VALENTINE'S DAY.

Valentine's Day is drawing near, but it is being overshadowed in a great degree by preparations for the celebration of Washington's birthday. Some stores are exhibiting specimens of the sentimental variety, while here and there parodies on human nature, some verging on the scurrilous, adorn shop windows. St. Valentine appeals to comparatively few at the present day, and the custom of sending friendly greetings in the shape of tender missives on the 14th of February is gradually declining, Christmas and New Year's cards having in a measure superseded it. But few of the comic varieties are now purchased by adults, their sale being contracted to children.

FUNERALS.

The funeral of the late Dr. A. Barnet-Baily took place this afternoon from Demaine & Son's undertaking establishment. Rev. J. G. Scott conducted the services, and the interment was in Bethel cemetery.

The funeral of the late Edward Horatio Day, who died at his home on south Royal street on Sunday, will take place from the residence tomorrow afternoon. The services will be conducted by Rev. Dr. W. F. Fisher and the pallbearers will be Messrs. Thomas McGuire, of Washington; Edgar Warfield, Harry Kirk, August Oehlert, William Entwisle, and James H. Thrift, of Baltimore.

THE TWENTY-SECOND.

Preparations for the celebration of Washington's birthday are still in progress. The various committees of the George Washington Birthday Association are still actively at work and they are anticipating everything that can in any way add to the success of the occasion.

The storekeepers are imbibing the spirit of the celebration, and are adorning their windows with articles appropriate for the occasion. Pictures of Washington, his traditional hatchet, flags, festoons, horns, &c., are in evidence in many places.

MIDGETS.

George Midgets, colored, convicted of murder in this city and who is now in the county jail, will be brought to the city jail tomorrow and will be executed early on Friday morning. The scaffold has been erected and will be tested on Thursday, though it is believed that its construction is perfect. Under the law the City Sergeant is allowed to admit twelve witnesses to the execution exclusive of the family and friends of the condemned prisoner. The admission will be by card only.

"CUT-OFF" RE-ESTABLISHED.

The custom of changing locomotives of Southern Railway passenger trains upon their arrival at this place is again in vogue, and the engines, after having been detached from trains a short distance west of this city, are brought to the round house in this city where such repairs as are needed are made. This procedure is known among railroad men as the "cut-off," and proves very satisfactory to most of the engineers whose homes are in Alexandria.

Money can be saved by buying your Shoes at Marshall's, 422 King street.

Quinn, of Fredericksburg, is the grand master of the Grand Lodge and will preside over its deliberations. Among the Alexandria Masons who will attend the session are Messrs. J. E. Shinn, Thos. A. Fisher, M. L. Dinwiddie, R. W. Arnold, John Graham and C. B. Marshall, and Mr. Ford, master of the Clifton Lodge, will accompany the Alexandrians.

TERRA COTTA WORKS.

Mr. Clyde C. Lamond, of Terra Cotta, D. C., has purchased the Slater property, bordering on the river just north of this city, and has already commenced the erection thereon of a terra cotta manufactory, which will be operated on an extensive scale. MILDER WEATHER.

The weather became milder yesterday and the temperature last night was in marked contrast to that of the previous twenty-four hours. The weather today has been cloudy and mild. The ice in the river in front of this city is moving and streaks of clear water are seen in many places.

In the House Mr. Douglas, of Ohio, replied to a statement of Senator Foraker in regard to the appointment by the President of a postmaster at Athens, Ohio.

Alexandria Gazette.

TUESDAY EVENING, FEB. 11, 1908.

They Were Good Eaters.

One day Dr. Norman McLeod, who was a large and healthy man, and one of his burly elders went to pay a visit to a certain Mrs. MacLaren of the congregation who lived over the Scotch hills. She was a frugal woman, but since she knew that a call from these two meant that they would stay to supper, too, she determined that they should have the best in the house. So she piled the table with jellies and jam and preserves and shortbread and all the delicacies of the season, and, the journey having been long, they partook unsparingly, and after the meal the elder said to her:

"Mrs. MacLaren, were you at the kirk Sunday?"

"Oh, aye," she said, "I was."

"And what did you think of the treatment of the miracle?" The sermon had been on the loaves and fishes.

"I thought it was good," said Mrs. MacLaren.

"And what is your idea on the subject, Mrs. MacLaren?" persisted the minister.

"Losh," said their hostess suddenly, "I'm thinkin' that if you and the elder had bin in the congregation there wadna bin twelve baskets of fragments for the disciples to gather up!"

Maintaining His Argument.

One night at Brooks' when Coke was present Fox, in allusion to something that had been said, made a very disparaging remark about government powder. Adam, attorney general to the Prince of Wales, who heard it, considered it a personal reflection and sent Fox a challenge. At the time appointed Fox went out and took his station, standing full face to his adversary. Fitzgerald pointed out to him that he ought to stand sideways. "What does it matter?" protested Fox. "I am as thick one way as the other!" The signal to fire was given. Adam fired, but Fox did not. His seconds, greatly excited, told him that he must fire. "I'll be —— if I do!" said Fox. "I have no quarrel." Whereupon the two adversaries advanced to shake hands. "Adam," said Fox complacently, "you'd have killed me if it hadn't been for the badness of government powder."—London Bellman.

The Sausage.

The sausage dates back to the year 897. It has been asserted that the Greeks in the days of Homer manufactured sausages, but this prehistoric mixture had nothing in common with our modern product. The ancient so called sausage was composed of the same materials which enter into the makeup of the boudin of the French market and the blood pudding of the French Canadian. The ancient sausage was enveloped in the stomachs of goats. It was not until the tenth century that sausage made of hashed pork became known. It was in or near the year 1500 that, thanks to the introduction into Germany of cinnamon and saffron, the sausages of Frankfort and Strassburg acquired a universal reputation.

Insect Contrivance.

As Dr. Darwin was walking one day in his garden he perceived a wasp upon the gravel walk with a large fly nearly as big as itself which it had caught. Kneeling down, he distinctly saw it cut off the head and abdomen and then, taking up with its feet the trunk or middle portion of the body, to which the wings remained attached, fly away. But a breeze of wind, acting on the wings of the fly, turned round the wasp with its burden and impeded its progress. Upon this it alighted again on the gravel walk, deliberately sawed off first one wing and then the other and, having thus removed the cause of its embarrassment, flew off with its booty.

Gambetta's Lost Eye.

Gambetta, the French patriot, had but one eye. How he came to lose the other in childhood is told by a writer: "It appears that Gambetta had such a dislike to going to school that he said to his father that unless he were taken from school he would poke one of his eyes out. His father insisted on his remaining on at school, whereupon Gambetta did as he had threatened to do, and on his father remonstrating with him he said that if his father sent him back again to school he would poke the other eye out. Such a determined character was he that his father had finally to give way to him."

He Deserved the Watch.

A little boy who had been promised a watch in a too indefinite future showed a tendency to revert to the subject with a frequency which finally overcame the patience of his irate father. "If you say 'watch' again in my presence I'll thrash you!" was the ultimatum. Next morning at prayers, when each member of the family offered a Bible verse, the boy demurely gave his as he fixed his parent with his eye and repeated, "What I say unto you I say unto all, Watch!"

A Woman's Face.

No words can express the almost divine love and tenderness and the perfect trust and happiness of that girl wife's face as she looked into the eyes of her husband—and smiled. Other holiday impressions may grow dim and fade away, but that sweet woman's face remains stamped on my memory forever.—Wynne in London Reader.

Ungrammatical Justice.

"Prisoner at the bar," said the magistrate, "for the crime of overspeeding you will pay a fine of $10 or be took to jail for ten days."

"That's not a correct sentence," murmured the prisoner.—Philadelphia Ledger.

Anxiety never yet successfully bridged over any chasm.—Ruffini.

Chamberlain's Cough Remedy a Favorite.

"We prefer Chamberlain's Cough Remedy to any other for our children," says Mr. L. J. Woodbury of Twining, Mich. "It has also done the work for us in hard colds and croup, and we take pleasure in recommending it." For sale by W. F. Creighton and Richard Gibson.

DeWitt's Carbolized Witch Hazel Salve is especially good for piles. Sold by W. F. Creighton.

Absence of Mind.

Many amusing anecdotes are told of Bishop Burnet's absence of mind, but few perhaps are more striking and have been less repeated than the following, which Lord Orford used to relate:

Burnet was once dining with the Duchess of Marlborough after the great duke's disgrace. In the course of conversation, speaking of Marlborough's great qualities, great services and great fall, Burnet compared the duke with Belisarius, the great Roman.

"But how in reason," exclaimed the duchess, "could so great a general be abandoned?"

"Ah, my lady, do you know what a cursed brimstone of a wife he had?"

The hearers, to the good Burnet's surprise, were confused and dumb struck with the force of the parallel he discovered in the cases of the Roman and the Englishman.—St. James' Gazette.

The Count Too Touching.

In the long corridor of an uptown hotel they tell of a certain foreigner who until recently held court there of evenings. At last he disappeared, and then each of the men who had nightly been entertained by his flow of anecdote and his abundance of witty stories confessed that he had lent the count various sums, ranging from $100 up. The total seemed so formidable that a movement was set on foot to bring the defaulter back, his whereabouts having been ascertained. But funds were needed for the purpose. One of the big men of Wall street who was a creditor on the count's books to the extent of $500 was approached for a subscription.

"Not on your life!" said he. "I don't want him back. He'll borrow more money from me if he gets in town. But I'll subscribe $25 toward a fund to send him back to France if he'll agree to sail from Boston."—New York Globe.

Recipe For Making Money.

First catch your capital, however small, or if homemade, such as from savings, so much the better. Place in a steady, secure position where it will not be disturbed, and allow to stand. Skim off all that accrues without waste and with that at the proper season make a stiff paste of business, in which place your capital or as much of it as you can use with advantage. A little ripe judgment should be added. Season with hope and enterprise and stir briskly with a bunch of fresh energy. While your pie is cooking watch it carefully yourself and see that nothing goes wrong. Keep up a good fire until it begins to brown and don't take too much off the top for tasting until the whole is well cooked; then enjoy the result.—London Graphic.

Square Bullets.

In 1718 an Englishman, James Puckle, secured a British patent for what seems to have been an attempt at a breechloading rapid firing gun. An original feature of the invention was the use of two different breech plates, one for square bullets, to be used against the Turks, and the other for round bullets, to be used against Christians. It is curious to find two opposing tendencies in the same invention—first, the desire to construct a gun that should be more effective because more destructive, and, second, a desire to recognize certain ethical distinctions in its use. If a round bullet was too good for a Turk, a square one was too bad for a Christian.—London Chronicle.

Stereotyping.

It is claimed that stereotyping was known in 1711. It was practiced by William Ged of Edinburgh about 1730. Some of Ged's plates are to be seen at the Royal institution, London. A Mr. James attempted to introduce Ged's process in London in 1735, but failed. Stereotype printing was used in Holland during the last century, and a quarto Bible and a Dutch folio Bible were printed there. It was revived in London by Wilson in 1804. Since 1850 the durability of stereotypes has been greatly increased by electrotyping them with copper or silver.

The Cure.

Professor W. E. Grange, author of the "History of Primitive Love," alluded in the course of a lecture in Boston to the modern cynical view of love that prevails: "I remember once hearing a bricklayer and a plumber discuss love. 'I hold,' said the bricklayer, 'that if you are terribly in love the way to cure yourself is to run away.' The plumber shook his head and sneered. 'That will cure you,' he said, 'provided you run away with the girl.'"

Short and Out.

"Where is Mr. Middleman?" asked the caller at the broker's office.

"I think he's out on a little matter of wheat," replied the bright clerk.

"Out long?"

"Certainly not. If he had been long, he would have been in. It's because he was short that he's out."—Philadelphia Press.

Chemical.

In Prestbury churchyard, near Macclesfield, England, may be found the following epitaph on a chemist:

Willie's dead—we're full of woe—
We'll never see him more.
He thought to drink of H_2O,
'Twas H_2SO_4.

A Vicious Dig.

Patty—I always think of all the unkind things I have said during the day before I fall asleep at night. Patricia—Dear me! Do you stay awake as long as that?

Many a fellow has his nose to the grindstone without sharpening his wits.—Philadelphia Record.

The "pure food law" is designed by the government to protect the public from injurious ingredients in both foods and drugs. It is beneficial both to the public and to the conscientious manufacturer. Ely's Cream Balm, a successful remedy for cold in the head, nasal catarrh, hay fever, etc., containing no injurious drugs, meets fully the requirements of the new law, and that fact is prominently stated on every package. It contains none of the injurious drugs which are required by law to be mentioned on the label. Hence you can use it safely.

Too Much Collection.

A Scottish gentleman paying a visit to London was taken by his nephew to a service in St. Paul's cathedral. He had no acquaintance whatever with the liturgy of the Church of England. He picked up a prayer book and became very much interested, but as he turned over the leaves his face became clouded with a look of intense anxiety. He placed the prayer book carefully down, looked cautiously around, picked up his hat and crept stealthily to the door. His nephew followed him and said:

"Are you ill, uncle? What is the matter?"

The uncle replied: "No. But it is enough to make any man ill to see the number of collections made in this kirk!"

"Collections!" said the nephew, in surprise. "If there is any at all, there certainly won't be more than one."

"Well," said the uncle, "they should no' mark so many in the book. There's naething but 'collect' and bits of prayer, then 'collect' and more prayers, and 'collect' again. And says I to mysel', 'If I bide here until all these collections are ta'en, I'll no' have a bawbee in ma pocket!'"—London Tit-Bits.

How Indians Tan Deerskin.

The skin dressing of the Indians, both buffalo and deer skins, is generally very beautiful and soft. They stretch the skin either on a frame or on the ground, and after it has remained there for three or four days, with the brains spread over the fleshy side, they grain it with a sort of adz or chisel. After the process of graining, though the skin is apparently beautifully finished, it passes through another process—that of smoking. For this they hang the skin on a frame in a smoke proof house or tent. The fire is made at the bottom out of rotten wood, which produces a strong and peculiar smell. The fire must be smothered to make the smoke. The grained skins must be kept in the smoke for three or four days, and after this the skins will always remain the same, even after being wet, which does not belong to the dressed skins in civilized countries.—"Life Among the Indians."

The Partitions of Poland.

There have been three partitions of Poland. The first was in 1772, when Prussia took the palatinates of Malberg, Pomeria and Warmia, a part of Culm and a part of Great Poland. Austria took Red Russia, or Galicia; a part of Podolia, Sandomir and Cracow, and Russia took White Russia, with all the part beyond the Dnieper. The second partition was in 1793, by which Prussia acquired the remainder of Great and a portion of Little Poland, and the Russian boundary was advanced to the center of Lithuania and Volhynia. In the third and final partition, in 1795, Austria had Cracow, with the country between the Pilica and the Vistula. Prussia had the capital, with the territory as far as the Niemen, while the rest went to Russia.—New York American.
